Appendix A - Resources

What every Director should know...but may have been afraid to ask.

When a new Director comes into a Center, or when a new center opens, there are so many things to do! The purpose of this list is to provide you with resources for “the basics” that most Centers consider essential to operate. We have tried to do the legwork for you in order to cut down on your research time and answer the often frustrating question, “Where do I get all of the good things I have seen!?” This is not a comprehensive list of everything you may need, but we hope that it will be a good foundation to get you started!
